The postoffices in this country at the end of the last fiscal year numbered 75,000, an increase of 1,430 over the previous year.

A contemporary asks, "Can the Democratic party be saved?" It can, provided the people of this country recover their senses and vote right.

In Maine the deer hunting season opened in October, and during that month hunters took down 15,000. The law limits the number that one hunter may kill.

Voting machines were used in seven cities and towns in New York at the last election and they gave satisfaction, especially to the fellows who were elected.

Two persons in Kansas have recently died from eating mince pie. Some Kansas people have an extraordinary faith in their ability to do hazardous things with impunity.

Oklahoma has an anti-horse thief association, with 115 lodges. They succeeded in capturing 155 horse thieves in the past two years, but it is not stated how many they lynched.

The Standard Oil Company is reaching out now to monopolize the soap business. It has secured a new process for making soap out of kerosene and soda ash, without fat, and thinks it has a fat thing.

A Paris paper notes the fact that an English visitor was waylaid and "impudently robbed" by some fellow who "blindfolded him by throwing pepper in his eyes." This is a decidedly Frenchy way of blindfolding.

Two Hungarians who had a misunderstanding at a christening in a Pennsylvania town repaired to the railway track to adjust it by the pummelling process. While they were both fully absorbed in punching each other the lightning express came bowling around the bend, lifted them into the air, mashed them when they fell, and next day the christeners had a pair of funerals.

Chauncey Depew gives the following advice free, gratis, &c., to people who aspire to become banquetters and linger long in the land: "Dine at a banquet as you would at home. Let somebody else eat the mixed dishes, pastry and sweets. Drink but one kind of wine." That's what he does, and he still lives. But what kind of a "banquet" would that be to the average American, who wants to go for everything in sight, especially if his stomach is not acquainted with it?

IMPERIAL PINE PRODUCT CO.

Details of Purchase of its Plant by Mr. Geo. E. Pope, of Wilmington—Deed Filed for Registration.

The STAR noted several months ago the purchase by Mr. George E. Pope, of Wilmington, of the plant of the Imperial Pine Product Company, or "Unknown Factory" as it is sometimes termed, and yesterday details of the purchase became apparent from the deed to the property, which was filed for registration at the Court House,

The stipulation is $30,000 and the sale was made August 15th by the officers of the Imperial Company by virtue of a resolution passed at a meeting of the stockholders in New York, January 19th, delegating to the said officers the power to dispose of the plant and appurtenances, including the sole right to the trade mark "Imperolene," also that "free and perpetual right of entry, right of way and easement at any and all times for the construction of a line of railway leading from the land of the company to and connecting with the W. & W. R. R., at or near the two-mile post."

There were also entered for registration yesterday articles of release from the Knickerbocker Trust Company, of New York, to the Imperial Pine Product Company, absolving it of a mortage given for the security of payment of its first mortage six per cent. gold bonds.

The Imperial Company is a corporation existing under the laws of West Virginia.

French, clerk of the court, says he has 117 cases docketed, which is the heaviest since Judge Battle's election. The jail is literally full, approximately fifty offenders being incarcerated there, with daily additions to their ranks on capiases for costs from last term of the court. There are no important cases to come up for trial and the term will be distinguished only for the unusually large number of petty cases

Tug Blanche Floated.

The tug Blanche was pulled off the beach at Southport on the flood tide early yesterday morning and was towed up to the city by the Marion yesterday afternoon for fresh water to refill the boiler. She is not injured in any particular and after filling the boiler she steamed down the river as of yore and resumed her harbor towing.

ATLANTIC YACHT CLUB'S DEMOLISHED CLUB HOUSE.

Members Decide to Have It Raised Temporarily and Later Restored to Former Shape—Improvements Proposed.

In accordance with the adjournment of the Atlantic Yacht Club last week, the club met again last night at the room of the Board of Audit and Finance, at the City Hall, to hear the report of the committee appointed to examine and report on the condition of the club house which was demolished by the hurricane of October 30th 31st. President James F. Post presided, and requested Mr. Champ McD. Davis to act as secretary.

President Post stated the object of the meeting and made a verbal report for the committee. He said he had notified the members of the executive committee to meet him at the office of Captain E. W. Van C. Lucas, but he had not been able to get them together. He had, however, seen the members individually, and they all agreed that some action should be taken to preserve the club's property on Wrightsville Beach. He stated that Mr. H. E Bonitz, the architect, visited the beach yesterday at his request and examined the club house as an expert. He called on Mr. Bonitz for a report.

Mr. Bonitz said he went to the beach and examined the club house closely, finding it in a condition not near so bad as was reported. He crawled underneath it and found that the mudsills and up-right foundations were still under the house. It appears that the tidal wave undermined the foundations of the house and washed it back quite a distance, carrying the foundations along with the building. He found that the floor was bulged and broken when the house settled down on the beach but the mudsills and floor joists were intact. The principal damage to the building was the loss of the piazzas, while some of the weather-boarding had been ripped off, the flooring was bulged up in places and the foundations had been undermined and displaced. Most of the weather-boarding was in good preservation and the main body of the house was in very good shape. He recommended that the loosened piazzas be removed to prevent their being flopped about by the wind, and that the building be jacked up to prevent damage by high tides. He recommended that the house be raised at the place where it now stands or that it be moved further back towards the sound. As for the bath houses he said they had been washed back from their foundations, but they were damaged very little. They could be raised up without much trouble. With regard to the foundations, he said he noticed that notwithstanding the very best heart pine had been used, the timbers were badly rotted where they went into the sand. He said whatever is done, something should be done to protect the foundations—probably it would be necessary to use some preservative on the timbers. Mr. Bonitz stated that it was his opinion that the house could be restored to its former shape at an expenditure of $300 or less. He recommended that whatever is done, prompt action should be taken to temporarily preserve what is left of the building.

President Post stated that Captain Lucas, chief of the United States engineer corps, agreed in the main with Mr. Bonitz about the condition of the building and the steps necessary for its protection from further damage. The president said the committee would recommend that the building be temporarily raised, and the committee be authorized to call for bids for restoring the house.

A discussion then followed as to the best manner of raising the funds necessary to repair the building. It was stated that the available fund on hand now is $150.

At the first meeting of the club three plans were suggested for raising funds—one to assess the members, one to take in more members, and still another to mortgage the club's property.

Capt. O. A. Wiggins said he favored the taking in of new members and moved that that plan be adopted. It was stated, however, that ten days' advertisement would have to be given to that effort. He therefore moved that such advertisement be made.

The question was then discussed by several members. President Post stated that the executive committee would recommend that the assessment plan be adopted, as the club had a membership of 200 and they could stand the assessment necessary.

Mr. J. A. Taylor moved that the executive committee be authorized to have the building temporarily cared for, and that $500 be appropriated to have the property repaired, the same to be raised by assessing each member $2 50.

Capt. T. D. Meares moved to amend by making the assessment $5, payable monthly and beginning the payments in November.

Mr. H. E. Bonitz said that was going a little too fast, and suggested that the property be first raised up, and then the necessary repairs be ascertained and bids be called for to restore the property to its original shape, or to add some improvements that had been suggested, particularly a hard-wood floor for dancing and some rooms for sleeping. He said $500 would be ample to restore the building and rebuild the platform to the railroad.

President Post said the executive committee coincided with Mr. Bonitz's views.

Finally a substitute for all the motions was made by Mr. James D. Smith, to the effect that the executive committee be authorized to have the building temporarily cared for, and then to advertise for bids for repairing the property, or adding improvements, if deemed advisable. His motion was adopted.

The club then adjourned.

ROAD MATTERS DISCUSSED.

Commissioners Give Further Consideration to Improvement—"Summer Rest" Road Declared Public.

Only matters pertaining to the betterment of the public roads of the county were discussed at yesterday's adjourned session of the Board of County Commissioners, though nothing definite was agreed upon and an adjournment was taken subject to call of the Chairman. For the past several meetings of the Board the subject of good roads has been exhaustively discussed by the members with Capt. Barry, the road superintendent, and that there will be some tangible results from the discussion, is assured.

At the meeting yesterday anent the discussion of these matters, the question of making a public thoroughfare of the road from Wrightsville depot to "Summer Rest" was taken up and upon motion of Commissioner Alexander it was ordered that the stretch of way from the depot along the sound to the Larkins ditch, thence in a northerly direction about two miles to a point near the six mile post near Baymede station, following the lines of the Stokeley and lower Newkirk roads be incorporated into the public road system and of course it will receive its pro rata benefit of the county appropriation for this purpose. The cottagers at "Summer Rest" have been contending for this privilege for a number of years and the action of the board in this respect will be hailed with pleasure by them.

At the meeting yesterday Col. Roger Moore presided and members present were Commissioners Holmes, Alexander and McEachern.

ANNUAL THANKSGIVING GAME

The O. A. N. Foot Ball Team Will Engage Eleven of Horner's School Here Nov. 30th—High School Game.

The difficulties which have hitherto attended all efforts on the part of Manager E. A. Metts, of the O. A. N. foot ball eleven, to arrange a game with some visiting team for Thanksgiving day have apparently been eliminated in one instance at least and it is now announced definitely that the crack team of Horner's School will engage the O. A. N. eleven on that date. A telegram was received yesterday confirming acceptance to the challenge of the Wilmington aggregation and the "boys" were out last night hardening muscle and sinew for the fray, which promises to be fully up to the standard of the old time annual Thanksgiving contest. In the personnel of the Horner team will be found a number of Wilmington boys, who are adepts at handling the pig-skin, and the visit from the "soldier boys" will be all the more pleasant for this reason.

While the O. A. N. team is contesting for the honors on the grounds here, the High School eleven will be engaged in trying conclusions with the Red Springs Military Academy at Fayetteville, as Manager Harry Smallbones several days ago closed up arrangements for a game on that date.

A TRANSFER OF STEAMERS.

The Clyde Steamship Saginaw Will Become a Regular Visitor to This Port.

It can now be announced definitely that the Clyde steamship New York, Capt. Ingram which has been plying regularly from the home port to Wilmington and Georgetown, will be taken off this run and the Saginaw sent in her stead. The New York cleared for her last trip from Wilmington early this week. The Oneida will, however, continue on this line and will be here as usual Tuesday, 21st, sailing from New York on the Saturday preceding.

The Saginaw has often visited Wilmington and will be here on her initial trip, under the new arrangement, Tuesday, November 28th, sailing from Georgetown as usual the day after arrival from the New York trip. She is in charge of Capt. Johnson and is of 1,429 tons burthen. Formerly she has been making the Clyde schedule between Boston, Charleston and Jacksonville, conveying both passengers and freight.

In response to an inquiry, Superintendent Smallbones said yesterday that he did not know what disposition would be made of the New York.

Kinston's Prosperity.

Mr. R. M. Wescott returned last evening from a business trip to Kinston, LaGrange and other points in that vicinity. Mr. Wescott was completely captivated with the air of business prosperity and good will which appears to be pervading the growing little city of Kinston, and is extravagant in his praise of the general commercial aspect of the community in general. Twelve million pounds of tobacco, he said, were sold there the present season, and this industry alone has contributed greatly to the up building of the place. One enterprise alone in the city, he says, is reported as employing over three hundred laborers. It is suggested that what the tobacco industry has done for Kinston, Wilson and other points, the same could be done for Wilmington if only the proper measures were taken by her commercial men and the farmers in the territory adjoining.

On account of the meeting of the D. O. K. K. at Charlotte, N. C., November 17th, 1899, the Seaboard Air Line will sell round trip tickets to Charlotte at $7.75 for the round trip. Tickets will be on sale November 16th and 17th, limited for return November 20th, 1899. †

SUCCESS ASSURED FOR THE MASONIC FAIR.

The Opening Will Take Place Next Monday Night at 8 O'clock—Temple to be Dedicated Tuesday Afternoon.

Col. Noble F. Martin is jubilant over the prospects for the great Masonic Fair to be held in the magnificent new Temple next Monday, November 20th, to December 2d. The ladies and the committee were again busy yesterday in preparing the booths, and the opening will be a brilliant affair.

The Floral Opening.

The doors to the great fair will be opened next Monday at 6 P. M. and the formal opening will take place at 8 P. M. At that hour the Hon. Alfred M. Waddell, Mayor of Wilmington, will deliver the address of welcome to the most Worshipful Grand Master and the Grand Lodge of Masons in North Carolina. Then there will be prayer by the Rev. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrews Presbyterian church, after which Dr. R. J. Noble, of Selma, N. C., Grand Master of Masons in the State, will respond in behalf of the Grand Lodge. The fair will then be in full blast.

There will be music by the Second Regiment Band from 8 till 10 P. M. on the opening night and again on Shriner's night, which is Tuesday, November 28th.

Dancing Every Night.

An orchestra will furnish music from 8 P. M. till 10 P. M. each night, and from 10 P. M. till 12 o'clock it will play for dancing.

The Commandery room has been prepared for the dance hall, and Col. Noble says it will be one of the most magnificent dance halls in America.

Dedication of the Temple.

The dedication of the Temple will be a notable feature of the fair. This event will take place at 3 P. M. next Tuesday. Most Worshipful Grand Master Noble and the Grand Lodge will officiate, and dedicate the Temple in accordance with the imposing rites of Masonry. A great crowd will attend the dedication. Information has been received that the lodges in several cities will come to the dedication.

Supper Every Night.

Mrs. W. W. Hodges and the ladies who are to assist her will serve supper every night during the fair. The supper hour will be from 6:30 to 9:30 P. M. The bill of fare for the two opening nights will contain a picture of Grand Master Noble. The menu will be very tempting and will be varied each night. The bill for the first night will embrace roast turkey, salads, ham and other meats, oysters in all styles, ice cream, cake and other good things. The price of supper will be 25 cents, with 15 cents for extras.

Admission to the Fair.

Book containing season tickets of admittance to the fair will be sold at $1.00. The books contain twelve tickets, and as many of them as is desired can be used on any day or night of the fair. The book tickets will cost 8½ cents each, but persons not holding season tickets will be charged 25 cents for admission.

The Railroad Fare.

Reports from all over the country are to the effect that great crowds will come here to attend the fair. The rates on all railroads in the State will be one fare for the round trip from any point as far north as Weldon, Newbern on the east, Charlotte and Greensboro to the west, and Columbia, S. C., on the south. The cheap tickets will be sold next Monday and Tuesday, good for the return trip for three days after the day of purchase. On Monday and Tuesday of the second week of the fair tickets good for three days will also be on sale. These rates will bring hundreds of people to the fair.

COTTON CROP ESTIMATE.

Latham, Alexander & Co. Put the Figures at 8,709,690 Bales.

Messrs Latham, Alexander & Co., the well known bankers and cotton merchants, have issued a circular, dated November 15th, in which they estimate the present crop at 8,709,690 bales against 11,275,000 bales last year. This letter is based on 2,800 letters received from reliable correspondents in all the cotton States, and the result given above is reached by averaging the estimates from each State.

The circular of Messrs. Latham, Alexander & Co., concludes as follows:

"Two thsusand one hundred and forty correspondents report that the crop has been more rapidly marketed, or shipped to market as quickly as in former years.

Four hundred and forty-two correspondents report that from 5 to 15 per cent. more than last year has been held on plantations, towns and cities for higher prices.

Our special agents who have been travelling through the South for the past month, to ascertain the true condition of the cotton crop fully confirm the foregoing estimate."

Dr. Porter Recovering.

Mr. D. C. Venters, of Rocky Point, who was in the city yesterday, told a STAR representative that Dr. E. Porter, who sustained serious injuries several days ago by falling from a ladder from whence he was directing some improvements to a building, is improving rapidly and will be out in a short while. There are few men in Eastern Carolina so well and favorably known as Dr. Porter and the news of his rapid recovery will be noted with pleasure by his numerous friends and especially those in Wilmington and vicinity, where he has such extensive business interests and is consequently better known.

CHIMES OF NORMANDY.

The Dan Packard Opera Company—A Large Audience—The Bohemian Girl To-night.

Last night at the Opera House the "Chimes of Normanday" pealed clear and sweet. The Dan Packard Company in this opera has scored another success, playing before a large and appreciative audience—in fact a packed house.

The play has to do chiefly with the love affairs of one Germoin, the untangling of an inheritance web and the miserly idiosyncrasies of Gaspard. It abounds in startling situations and frequent opportunities for a display of histrionic talent.

The music was light and sparkling and rendered in a most pleasing manner.

Miss Collata Gilman as Germoin was in excellent voice, and added fresh laurels to the reputation she has already achieved.

Miss Josephine Kirkwood sung the part of Serpolette. She possesses a rare contralto and displays a wonderful understanding of music. In the last act she wore a Worth creation—a beautiful gown adorned with pearls and diamonds.

The climax of the performance was reached in the acting of Mr. Gilbert Clayton, unquestionably the most talented display of histrionic ability that has been presented here in many a day.

Mr. Packard announces for to-night "The Bohemian Girl." This opera is acknowledged the closest approach to "grand opera" that has been presented.

A special bargain matinee will be given to morrow—"Mikado." Seats will be 25 cents all over the house.

SCOTTISH ENTERTAINMENT.

"An Evening With Robert Burns" and Dramatic Recital From Ian MacLaren—At the Y. M. C. A.

Miss Jean Howison, of Perth, Scotland, will give a lecture-recital from Scotia's poet, Robt. Burns, and a dramatic recital from Ian MacLaren's prose classic, in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, beginning next Tuesday, ending Friday, November 21st and 24th.

The following notice is from the editorial columns of the New York Mail and Express:

"Miss Jean Howison, of Perth, Scotland, has captured many an American audience by the grace and charm of her platform efforts. The gifted Scotch lady is both a lecturer and an elocutionist. Her favorite platform topic is Robert Burns, of whom, in common with Scotsmen and Scotswomen on either continent, she is an enthusiastic admirer. She is herself a native of Perth, but a few miles distant from the now world-famed Drumtochty, and knows both the village and the author. She has just enough of Scotia's delightful brogue to give a sympathetic and entertaining presentation of Scotland's latest prose classic, and to make to live anew the almost historic figure of Jamie Soutar and Drumsheugh, of Mrs. McFadyen and Dr. Wellum MacLure."

BREHANY CONCERT COMPANY.

Second Entertainment of Popular Course at Y. M. C. A. Auditorium To-night.

The second entertainment of the "Popular Course," to be presented by the Louise Brehany Concert Company, already Wilmington's favorite by their splendid rendition of last February, will take place in the auditorium this evening.

The management urgently requests that all patrons will be in the hall by 8 25 P. M., as the doors will be closed at 8.30 and no one will be admitted until the first number is finished. It is also requested and expected that ladies will remove their hats.

No reserved seats will be on sale at the door. Only single admission tickets may be had.

Possibly no company has ever visited Wilmington that has been so pleasantly remembered as this one.

From the rapid manner in which the box sheet was being clipped yesterday, it looks as if standing room will be at a premium.

Police Matters.

The only case in the police court yesterday morning was the investigation of some domestic complications in a family of Brooklyn negroes. Dora Williams was the defendant and she was charged with an assault on Florence Sauls Tuesday night. The Sauls woman complained that the defendant struck her with a fence rail because she remonstrated with her for alienating the affections of her husband, Alex. Sauls. Sauls employed counsel for his paramour, but the Mayor gave her a fine of $5 and costs.

Policemen Woebse, Huggins and King were engaged for a part of the day yesterday in serving indictments on delinquent privilege tax payers. They "rounded up" fourteen of the list and will continue the work to-day.

River Shipping Notes.

The steamer Driver arrived yesterday from Fayetteville with a heavy freight and returned in the afternoon at 5 o'clock. Mr. T. D. Love, the Wilmington agent, advertises low rates on the steamer from up the Cape Fear beginning next Monday on account of the Masonic Fair, tickets being good for twelve days.

The steamer Hawes arrived yesterday morning from Willis' Creek and cleared early in the afternoon for another trip up the Cape Fear. She will go this time as far as Tenny's Bluff, twelve miles this side of Fayetteville.

The Hurt is expected in port to-day.

The Seabright arrived from Little River, S. C., last night.

Syrian's Shop Looted.

Last night about 10 o'clock the store of a Syrian named Joseph McKoy, on Water next door to corner of Market street, was entered by unknown persons, supposed to be negroes, and two watches, a razor, a number of pocket knives, several pairs of shoes, about $7 in cash and a number of other articles were stolen therefrom, after entrance was effected by forcing the front door with an iron rod, which was found in the interior of the store when the robbery was discovered by Policeman Lihew, a few minutes after it was committed. There is no clew to the identity of the thieves. McKoy with his family live up stairs over the store.

Blood Poison.

This dreadful disease has at last found an antidote in Barium Rock Spring Water. It has relieved many cases in its various forms. Were it prudent, we could give testimonials of this, but the names of the parties cannot be used.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 17.

FEELING THE SQUEEZE.

Notwithstanding the opinion of Senator Chandler, to which we made reference yesterday, financial legislation is down on the Republican programme for the next Congress. What shape this legislation may take is not yet definitely known, but there is little doubt that it will provide for the establishment of the gold standard, thus positively committing this country to gold payments, depriving the Secretary of the Treasury of the option to pay in either gold or silver, an option which the law now gives him. It is to get rid of this option that this gold legislation is proposed, its advocates fearing that in the event a Democratic President be elected hereafter, he might appoint a Secretary of the Treasury who might in case he thought it expedient pay out silver, and thus reinstate the outlawed silver dollar as true and lawful money. That's the chief aim of what they call "currency reform."

There is some doubt as to whether they will be able to carry out this programme as contemplated, but they probably will, although there are some of the Republican Senators who do not deem it expedient, holding that it is really unnecessary, and that the country is now to all intents and purposes on a gold basis, but if the Republican Congressional caucus decides for it they will probably be governed by that decision and go with the party. As foreshadowing the course that may be pursued we clip the following from a letter of the Washington correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin, a very well informed and careful writer. Speaking of some measures that will come before the next Congress he says:

"The currency and revenue problems will present themselves in several forms before the session is over. The Republican leaders in the House are preparing to pass the Atlantic City bill before the appointment of most of the committees and before the Christmas holidays. The measure of the Senate Finance Committee is looked upon with some anxiety by a few Republican Senators from the extreme West, and they will probably protest against it in caucus. A gold standard bill is likely to have the votes of all but two or three Republicans, however, when the roll is finally called in the Senate. The revenue problem will not be taken up if it can be avoided, Provision may be made in one of the financial bills for exchanging the bonds which mature in 1904 and 1907 for new issues at a lower rate. It will be necessary to pay a premium for the old bonds, but the Government will save a large amount in interest in the long run. If this conversion can be coupled with the cancellation of a few of the old bonds, or even if it results only in the payment of a considerable sum in premiums, the congestion of money in the Tresury will be to some extent relieved. The banking problem is becoming more pressing as the country feels the rigid limits of the present currencypressing tighter and tighter upon the limbs of commerce. Senators and Representatives from the West are declaring that something must be done and are likely to find support among Eastern members, whose local interests have suffered by the high interest rates in New York. There is some doubt, however, whether the problem can be worked out in a manner which will overcome the persistent prejudice against bank issues upon commercial assets. The supporters of such a currency make converts among nearly all who investigate the question, but there are many members of Congress who frankly say that even when convinced themselves they cannot afford to act precipitately in advance of the demand of their constituents. It is possible that if final action is not taken at the coming long session the experience of another autumn squeeze in the money market may prepare the way for intelligent action at the short session a year hence."

It seems from this that the banking problem stands a chance of receiving more consideration in consequence of the tight pinches the Eastern money centers have experienced from the scarcity of currency, they having escaped heretofore and the South and West suffering most from this cause. While that was the case the statesmen from the East gave themselves little concern about the currency problem, for their people were really benefitted by that as the South and the West had to depend upon them for the extra currency needed, and they paid well for the accommodations. The extraordinary demand for currency, however, since the revival in business caught the Eastern banks short on currency—not on money, for they have gold and silver, but currency in convevient form for circulation, notes which are preferred to coin. That's the problem they want solved now, which they call "banking legislation," but the national banks want it solved in such a way as to give them a monopoly of the paper currency of the country, as a preliminary to which they propose to have the outstanding greenbacks called in as fast as possible and cancelled. With this accomplished, and no other banks of issue the national banks would have the monopoly of the paper money of the country, which practically means a monopoly of the country's money, for gold never does circulate much, and doesn't now, notwithstanding the pressing demand for more money.

If it were really the desire to provide a system which would supply the currency which the country might need, and meet unusual demands when an unusual volume of business required it, regardless of subserving the interests of the great banks which have so long been listened to as authorities on the financial question, they could do that as other countries do it which have banking systems which can and do supply as much currency as business requires, however large the volume may be. There isn't a leading country in Europe that hasn't a better banking system than this country, with all its business, progress and wealth, has. The reason may be that in those countries politics and finances are not linked so closely as they are in this country, and financiers, not politicians, shape financial systems.

WESTERN APPLES.

There is no State in the Union better adapted to fruit-growing than North Carolina, few which are as well and none better adapted to apple-growing. There is no section of the State where the apple does not thrive while several varieties are grown that are equal to the best grown anywhere, the only difference being that they have not been so widely marketed as some of the best apples of some other States, and their excellence is not so well known away from home. An apple exhibit showing what the State can do in this respect would be a revelation even to the great majority of our own people. As an illustration of this in a small way we quote the following from the Raleigh News and Observer showing what one county in the mountain section does:

"The collection of apples put on exhibition in the State Museum by Secretary Bruner is perhaps the most remarkable of the kind ever shown in the State, certainly it has never been surpassed by any one county, and all the fruit shown is from Yancey. Several hundred people yesterday visited the museum too see the display and all were well repaid for the visit. There is not a town in central or eastern North Carolina where such fruit can be bought at any price twice in a winter season because for some strange reason it is not shown. Inferior apples from the North are marketed instead.

"Whether for the size of the fruit, the variety, richness of coloring or gastronomic excellence, it is a remarkable exhibit. There is the Shannon Pippin as an example of size. One grown in the orchard of Wilson Hensey, of Bald Creek, is 14½ inches in circumference, another is 14. A Buff, from the orchard of C. L. McPeeters, Bald Creek, is 13 inches in circumference. A Spitzbergen, an apple that is remarkable for flavor rather than size, grown by C. R. McInturff, of Point Gap, is 11 inches around the middle. A Falliwater, sent by Wilson Hensey, is 12½ inches, and one of the same variety, grown by William Flack, of Cane River is 13 inches in circumference. It is questionable that more perfect fruit has ever been grown, all things considered, than some specimens of the Falliwater and Virginia Beauty on exhibition.

"The showing of this fruit here was an excellent idea on the part of Secretary Bruner and ought to go far toward building up a better home market."

There is more attention given to the apple crop now than formerly, because growers have discovered that there is money in the business. We have seen mention made of orchards in the Western part of the State whose owners were getting handsome incomes from them, marketing their crops in Charleston. Mount Airy does a large apple business and one that is growing larger every year, but still a comparatively insignificant portion of the crop of the State is marketed, and most of it probably goes to waste as it did years ago, or is sold in a way that brings but little profit to the seller. With proper effort to introduce this inestimable fruit in our own markets, and with better methods in picking, sorting, packing and shipping by the growers and shippers, we see no reason why this business should not be immensely increased.

It is said that a large Mormon temple is to be erected in Louisville. Judging from recent events in Kentucky that State is badly in need of of missionaries of some sort. Even Henri Watterson gloomily exclaims, "Can this be old Kentucky?"

Mr. D. A. Tompkins, of this State, who is such an enthusiastic advocate of cotton mills, has a strong and equally enthusiastic supporter in Mr. W. S. Whitam, of Georgia, who holds that there is no reason why the South should not get from $75 to $100 a bale for cotton instead of $30. He is a man whose business reputation stands pretty well in his State, where he is president of twenty-seven banks. Speaking of cotton mills, he says:

"Labor is plentiful and cheap in Georgia. The success of Georgia cotton mills has proven that southern men know how to run them. From personal experience I know that cotton mills of from 5,000 to 10,000 spindles pay much better dividends than mills of larger size. As many years ago the West attracted the attention of capitalists and business men, so now the eyes of this class are turned to the South. I can name half a dozen cotton mills in this State (Georgia) having from 4,000 to 10,000 spindles, which net earnings of from 25 to 60 per cent. during the past twelve months. I am now organizing three new cotton mills."

There may be some difference of opinion as to whether small mills pay better than large mills, but whether they do or not, botn pay very well, and well enough to encourage the establishment of many more both large and small. Whatever may be said for large mills, there is much to be said for small mills which present many advantages which should be taken into consideration, especially in a section where capital is limited, and most of the dependence must be put upon home capital.

Suppose that one in proportion to investment pays the investors as well as the other, two small mills are better in our opinion than one having the capacity of the two, because the two make two markets for cotton to the one the larger makes, distribute the industry better, bring profit to more localities, give labor a better chance by giving employment to many in their localities, putting more money in circulation, creating more markets for what the farmers produce, thus benefitting them and encouraging diversified farming and thrift on the farm. And in addition to this it is easier to establish small mills on the co-operative plan than it is large ones. As far as the general prosperity is concerned the more the mills are distributed the better, however much they may be centered at localities presenting abundant power and other advantages.

Miss Nettie Clark, who lives in the village of New Liberty, Ill., wrote something sometime ago, put it into a bottle and threw it into the river. A Louisiana planter caught that bottle, read what was on the paper, opened a correspondence with Nettie, caught her, and they were married a few days ago. Bottles are responsible for a good many freaks.

His Life Was Saved,

Mr. J. E Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die with Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles 10 cents at ROBT R. BELLAMY'S Drug Store; every bottle guaranteed. †

PATIENCE, THY NAME IS WOMAN.

The patience of women is proverbial, and it argues a patience almost more than human which enables them to endure so much pain and suffering, which the joyful experience of their happier sisters ought surely to induce them to escape from.

"I suffered from female sickness for fifteen years," writes Mrs. A. C. Scott, Le Roy, Colo., "suffered untold agonies—doctors could not give me any relief. A lady friend told me to get Warner's Safe Cure. I got a bottle and it helped me right away. I have taken six bottles and my health is better than it has been for twenty years."

And Mrs. L. B. Smith, of Ballston Spa, N. Y., after recounting how she was almost providentially led to the use of Warner's Safe Cure, thus recounts the happy results: "My nervousness is all gone, I am able to do lots of work and am cheerful, for I can now say what I could not at one time, that is, that everything looks bright and life is worth the living."

Use Warner's Safe Cure. It will restore the rose to your cheek, and the brightness to your eye, and will make you what you were intended to be, a helpmate to your husband.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— The total money in circulation in the country, Oct. 1, was $1,963,716,148; on a basis of 76,699,000 population, this is $25.00 per capita, the second largest in the world. The amount in the Treasury of the date mentioned, was $719,822,537, fully double the reserve needed to insure the easy working of the government's business. The ridiculous practice of sequestrating more than a quarter of the entire money supply, should be reformed altogether:—Chattanooga Times, Dem.

—— The prospective struggle between Russia and Japan has been characterized as one "between a bear and a shark;" but if it comes, it will be much more important than the comparison indicates. Russia's naval strength in the Pacific is not great comparatively, while Japan has accumulated a formidable fleet. She will be able to seize Port Arthur and other ports without much trouble, but whether she will be able to hold them after Russia has had time to bring her myriads of soldiers to the scene may well be doubted.—Philadelphia Ledger, Ind.

—— The county elections of Kansas are generally in favor of the Republicans, which indicates that the Populist have followed the example of their leader, ex-Senator Peffer, and gone back to the Grand Old Party. With Peffer, they have also taken back with them their State Socialism, their cheap money humbugs and other more or less wild notions of legislation and government.—Philadelphia Record, Dem,

—— The British public seems about as well posted as to the real situation in South Africa as we are about what is actually going on in the Philippines.—Atlanta Journal, Dem.

DUCKS AND DUCKLINGS.

A Few Condensed Bits of Information For the Breeder.

Bed well.

Ducks cannot stand filth.

The Rouen is the show duck.

The drinking vessel must be deep.

Ducks do not take kindly to nest boxes.

The duckhouse should be well ventilated.

The exclusive duck farm is becoming more scarce.

Broilers and ducklings make a strong combination.

Hot suns will kill more ducklings than anything else.

After breeding season the ducks can be run in one flock.

Too many drakes in the flock are apt to injure the ducks.

The cross of Pekin on Aylesbury makes a good laying family.

The English poulterers mate two to three ducks to a drake.

Duck feathers sell at about one-half the price of goose feathers.

Protection from hot suns and heavy rains are important matters in duck raising.

In France the birds which are called ducklings are not birds of the present year, but ducks that were hatched in the previous season.

Mr. Palmer says the Pekin duck is a great layer of fine eggs, but has not the fineness of flesh and the early maturity of the Aylesbury, though equal in growth.

English Poultry says: The Cayuga has certainly claims as a utility duck, the meat being of fine flavor, but we cannot say that it has an attractive appearance on a poulterer's slab.

The French greatly appreciate the high quality of the American Cayuga duck, and yet in this country but few Cayugas are bred. Certainly this is a product we are not overproud of.

The great secret of fattening ducklings is to be early, and this can only be attained by keeping the stock ducks young, says George A. Palmer. Even as in fowl we get the winter eggs from the pullets, so ducks of the first year will commence laying long before the older ones. We find in practice that it does not answer to keep stock ducks more than two years. They should be hatched in March and kept after the first few weeks at liberty, as the object here is to build up frame and constitution. It is never wise to breed from young, immature stock on both sides, and the finest young will be produced by mating the 1-year-old ducks to a 2-year-old drake. Yet to insure fertility it is sometimes necessary to use a drake of the first year for the early months.—A Few Hens.

Cholern In the Henhouse.

Italy has for the past few months been suffering from an epidemic of cholera, and since November there have been 2,000,000 deaths in the neighborhood of Milan alone. That is rather an alarming state of things, though the scourge is not a visitation of the human race, but merely afflicts the barnyard. Chicken farming, it seems, is a comparatively new industry in Italy, and this outbreak of cholera among the fowls, which is probably due to some preventable cause, is naturally causing very serious trouble and anxiety to those engaged in rearing them. The disease has spread to the Royal park at Monza, and 2,000 birds, chiefly pheasants, have already been laid low. As pheasant is a favorite article of diet with the king he is greatly concerned, and when he heard of the 2,000 deaths in his own henhouse he is said to have exclaimed, "I shall have to turn vegetarian"—an incident which ought to bring comfort and joy to the devotees of the vegetable cult. The epidemic in Italy will doubtless be viewed with considerable anxiety in countries which buy the products of the Italian barnyards. Italy's fowl exports are of a yearly value of 50,000,000 francs.—Glasgow News.

Toulouse Geese.

The Toulouse variety of geese originated in the vicinity of Toulouse, France, where they are extensively bred. These birds are large, compactly built and great layers. They are quiet-

On the other hand, they mature somewhat slowly, their flesh is a trifle coarse, and they are not so highly prized by some for table purposes as are the African geese or the mongrel produced by crossing the African goose with the Canada gander. They are gray in color and well suited for the Thanksgiving and Christmas trade.—Feather.

MAN A HABITUAL LIAR.

Excessive Use of Superlatives Distorts All His Statements of Fact.

"Through its emphasis of the superlative our age is in danger of losing all power to tell the truth," writes Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, D. D., of "The Diffusion of Happiness Through Conversation" in the August Ladies' Home Journal. "The modern collegian has reached such a state of culture that the positive and comparative degrees are unknown. It is no longer possible for the schoolgirl to find either an adjective or an adverb to express her ecstasy of feeling. Abstinence and sobriety in speech are rapidly passing away.

"David Swing once expressed the fear that through excess in the use of adjectives our generation would lose all sense of proportion and symmetry in the statement of facts. He noted that the adjectives most loved by our age are in themselves gross exaggerations. In studying the history of language he found that very early men began to say that 'the sun went down in a bed of gold; the moon turned all things to silver; the eye darted forth flames; the face was brighter than the sun.' Having used such expressions for 20 years, man awakens to find himself a habitual liar. We must also note that the modern school of wit does not deal in the pure, delicate humor of Sydney Smith or Charles Lamb, but for its effects depends upon gross exaggerations and word pilings. Thus not only the playground and schoolroom, but the papers and books also, through extravagances, are teaching men to strain language to the very uttermost. In literature that style is best which has most abstinence, forswearing adjectives and adverbs and dealing in the simplicities. That character also is finest which is simple and founded on frankness and truthfulness."

RAPID WORK OF THE BATTLESHIP INDIANA AT SANTIAGO.

Stood at the End of the Line—Under Fire From Morro and Socapa. Hurled Nearly Eighteen Hundred Shots In Forty Minutes.

[Copyright, 1899, by G. L. Kilmer.]

EVERY one of Schley's fighting ships had its individual part to play in the battle with Cervera's fleet off Santiago, July 3. Early that Sunday morning the Indiana, Captain H. C. Taylor, resumed the station previously held at the extreme eastern end of the line of blockading ships. As on board the other vessels, the crew was out for muster and inspection when the Spanish fleet was sighted. The bow of the Indiana pointed northwest, with Morro Castle frowning about two miles distant, off the starboard bow. The entrance to the channel lay west of the ship, and when the first gun of the morning broke upon the Sabbath stillness all eyes turned westward. Upon the peak of the Iowa, which lay abreast of the entrance, the startling signal was read, "Enemy's ships coming out."

Although the idea that Cervera would come out had been abandoned, the possibility of his doing so had been talked over and planned for until every man in the American fleet was ready to meet the emergency should it come. Captain Taylor gave a series of orders, almost in a breath, which turned the Indiana from a peaceful ship of parade into a fighting terror. "Clear ship for action!" said he, and then quickly, "Bugles, call to general quarters!"

Division officers took up the work, and rapidly the commands went around: "Turn on the current of the electric hoists!" "Steam and pressure on the turrets!" "Hoist the battle-flags!" and "Lay aloft rangefinders in the tops and give us our distance from Morro!"

Captain Taylor says that he thinks it did not require more than two minutes to execute these commands, together with the more belligerent ones: "Full speed ahead!" "The starboard battery will engage!" and "Set your sights for 4,000 yards!"

All hands rushed below, or, in fact, threw themselves down the ladder to their posts. Bruised and bleeding, their captain says, they staggered to the guns, reaching there naked to the waist. When Captain Taylor ordered the ball opened, saying, "Lads, our chance has come at last," the men responded with a yell that was savage in its suppressed desire to get at the Spaniards. When the Teresa and Vizcaya came out from under old Morro, it seemed to the watchers on the Indiana that they were heading east and the first business in hand would be ramming or taking a blow. The 13 inch guns were loaded ready to crush at short range any Spanish ship attempting to break through the line past the Indiana.

Suddenly the enemy turned westward, keeping up a brisk cannonade upon the Indiana. But the shells passed over. The Indiana had a perfect range upon Morro, and as the Spanish ships almost touched the point when they emerged from the entrance there was no time lost in pouring effective shots into the enemy with intense rapidity. Nearly all of the 1,876 projectiles fired from her guns that day were expended in the first 40 minutes of the fight.

For a short time the Indiana was under fire from the Morro and Socapa batteries, but when Captain Taylor saw that the Spanish torpedo boats were not to be feared and the enemy getting away to the westward he turned his helm and ran for the coast, redoubling his fire upon Cervera's ships. The Indiana was squarely upon the flank of the Spanish fleet. One of her shells, the heaviest of them, struck the Teresa and exploded against her. Another struck the Vizcaya, and she immediately burst into flames. When the Oquendo and Colon came within range, both treated the Indiana to heavy broadsides. In return the Indiana struck the Oquendo several times, and the Colon also felt the weight of one of her heavy projectiles. About the same time the torpedo boat destroyer Furor got in the way of a 13 inch shell from the Hoosier battleship which set her in flames and exploded her boiler.

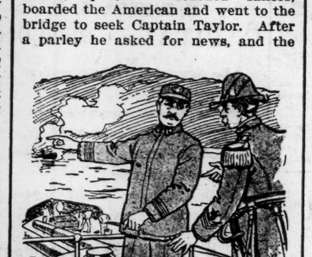
Captain Taylor watched the fight of the plucky Gloucester with the destroyers and tried to signal the gallant Wainwright to his advantage. But the smoke obscured the signals, also endangering the Gloucester in the fire of the Indiana and Iowa, which were together at that stage of the fight. Turning to the main enemy, Captain Taylor saw the Colon speeding rapidly away with one of his shots in her. Some distance behind, the Vizcaya lingered, with the marks of the Indiana's batteries upon her. Last in the Spanish line at this time were the Teresa and Oquendo, and upon these the Indiana's secondary battery was trained, with now and then a shot to help the Gloucester against the Pluton and Furor.

Suddenly the Teresa turned to the beach, with fire pouring up through her hatches. When she struck her colors, the men at the upper batteries of the Indiana set up a shout of exultation, which had scarcely died away before it was called to life again by the swift collapse of the Oquendo. This ship headed for shore, also in flames, and after hauling down her colors went upon the beach near her consort.

Meantime the Pluton and Furor had gone down, and the Indiana turned her full attention upon the Vizcaya, the best fighter of the Spanish fleet. Firing became deliberate, although the range was long, for the Vizcaya had good speed. Captain Taylor used his forward 13 and 8 inch guns upon her until she turned as if to avoid battle. The case of the Vizcaya did not seem hopeless, although she was on fire. To watchers on the Indiana she seemed to be aiming to escape by turning inshore and doubling back to the harbor. To foil this movement Captain Taylor turned the Indiana inshore to head her off. But the Vizcaya was out of the fight, for she continued until she struck the beach and then hauled down her colors.

"Cease firing!" sounded on the bugles of the Indiana when the Vizcaya succumbed, and in a second the ship swarmed with powder blackened sailors hurrahing over their first victory. But the prospect of rest was cut short when the scouts brought word that there was a Spanish ship coming up over the course east of Santiago harbor. Captain Taylor thought he made out the Spanish flag at her peak, and once again the call was sounded for the men to get by their guns. They had already been at it for three hours, but the captain says they responded to the second call with a tremendous cheer and showed great disappointment when, as they were about to open fire on the stranger, signals were made out upon her showing that she was the Austrian ship Kaiserin Maria Theresa.

Thinking perhaps the signals might be a ruse the Indiana approached slowly, with guns trained for business. Then came a hail and request to communicate. Both hove to, and an Austrian lieutenant in full uniform, brilliant in epaulets and gold lace, which contrasted strongly with the smoke and dust begrimed officers and hall naked, powder blackened sailors, boarded the American and went to the bridge to seek Captain Taylor. After a parley he asked for news, and the captain said, as he tells in his Century story, that the American fleet had just come out of action.



"BUT WHERE IS CERVERA'S FLEET NOW?"

"Then there has been a battle?" asked the Austrian.

"Yes," replied Captain Taylor.

"And the result?"

"We have defeated them."

"But where is Cervera's fleet now?" the bewildered Austrian inquired. Pointing to the beach, the captain said, "His flagship, the Maria Teresa, is there, lieutenant."

"But I see nothing but some smoke, captain."

"It is the smoke of the Teresa burning. She is a wreck upon the beach. Close to her you'll see another column of smoke, the Oquendo, burning. On this side, nearer to us, is the Pluton, sunk in the breakers. The Furor is near her, but is on the bottom in deeper water and is not visible."

"But you have then destroyed half those splendid vessels of Cervera's?"

"Wait, lieutenant, and look a few miles farther to the westward," said the captain, "and you'll see another column of smoke. That is the Vizcaya on the beach near Aseraderos. As to the Colon, she is still farther to the westward, out of sight from us here."

His eyes ranged along the shore as I pointed out the different vessels.

"Mein Gott!" he exclaimed. "Then you have destroyed the whole of that splendid squadron! I did not think it possible. And your injuries, captain?"

"None!" was the prompt reply.

"But, captain, you do not understand," said the excited foreigner. "It is what casualties, ships lost or disabled, that I ask."

"None, lieutenant. The Indiana was struck twice, but suffered no injury, no loss. The other ships are virtually in the same condition. We are all of us perfectly ready for another battle, as much so as before Cervera came out this morning." Captain Taylor then moved the great battleship where he could watch the harbor's mouth for any new enemy and turned his attention to rescuing the helpless Spaniards. During the night 215 prisoners were on board, among them a lieutenant of the destroyer Pluton. The lieutenant told Captain Taylor that he had not slept for a month. Said he in explanation, "Every night for the last 30 days I have been trying to come out with the Pluton, but you kept such a good watch on the Indiana that I never found the ten minutes needed to get clear of the Morro."

Time Table No. 9.

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 17.

KENTUCKY'S ELECTION IS STILL UNDECIDED.

Goebel Managers Assert That Their Whole Ticket Will Win—Taylor Men Are Defiant.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

FRANKFORT, KY., November 16.—Secretary of State Finley has received official returns from fifty counties and is tabulating them for the State election board. Candidates for minor State offices on both tickets fear that the returns may show the head of one ticket elected with candidates on the other ticket faring likewise. While Goebel carries Campbell county, Burke, Republican, for superintendent of public instruction, carries the same by over 1,000. Goebel managers assert that the whole Goebel ticket will win. The report to day that Chairman Prior of the State election commission would resign because of dissatisfaction over the Goebel county commissioners is denied by Prior.

Taylor's friends have begun a quiet canvass of the members of the Legislature, sounding them as to how they would vote on a contest if the State election board should throw out Knox, Johnson or Pulaski counties, and also 1,100 votes cast in Nelson for "W. P." instead of W. S. Taylor. It is said four Democratic members of the House and at least six Democratic senators have been found so far who will not vote to seat Goebel. This movement on Taylor's side is construed to indicate the opinion that Goebel will be given a certificate of election from the State board. The story that Goebel has decided to abandon the fight and to enter a fight against Blackbourn for Senator is pronounced absurd by friends of both and is laughed at by both Goebel and Blackburn.

Gov. Bradley Will Not Talk.

Governor Bradley has the members of both parties guessing what hand he will take in the event of a collision between Goebel and Taylor over the governorship. Bradley's close friends say he will not recognize Goebel as Governor if the State board goes behind the original returns in order to obtain for him a certificate of election.

The Governor himself will not talk, but as he is in conference with Adjutant General Collier almost constantly, rumors of this kind are worrying the Democratic leaders.

No Governor will be inaugurated December 12th, the date prescribed by law. The State election commission has not been convened to canvass the returns. The law provides that it must meet not later than December 4th.

Claims Taylor's Election.

FRANKFORT, KY., November 16—Senator Deboe arrived here to-night and is looking after some of Taylor's interests. In an interview he said: "Taylor has been elected and he will be seated. The people will stand no usurpation from the State election board or anybody else. I do not think the board will have the audacity to issue Goebel a certificate of election; but, if it does, the people will not submit to him and Taylor will be seated."

LOUISVILLE, KY., November 16.—The work of tabulating the election returns in Louisville is progressing so slowly that it is hardly probable that all of the precincts of the city will be counted before next Tuesday or Wednesday. The Democrats have given notice that they will contest the vote in several precincts on account of the fact that the Democratic officers of the precincts, as well Democratic voters, had been intimidated by soldiers. When the vote of the twentieth precinct of the Ninth ward was reached by the commissioners it was found there was no complete record of the vote. Judge Hargis, Democratic counsel, said that he would produce affidavits to prove that the Democratic officers in this precinct were frightened from the voting places by the report that Governor Bradley's soldiers were coming. On this account they had been unable to make out the returns.

Mr. Kinkaid, for the Republicans, said that he would produce evidence to show that the soldiers were never within a mile of the precinct, and that the Democrats had other reasons for not giving their returns. The board voted to pass the precinct until later.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

Arraigned in Court for Refusing to Submit to Vaccination.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

AMERICUS, GA., November 16.—Nearly the entire membership of the Christian Science Church in this city were in the mayor's court to day to answer charges of refusing to submit to vaccination. Among the defendants were twenty ladies, many of them prominent in the community, besides a number of boys and girls. The court room was crowded with well dressed men and women. Attorneys for the defence obtained a continuance of the cases until to-morrow. The Scientists will be given the alternative of being quarantined in their residences or going to prison, and many of them, it is said, will choose the latter.

The sentence of Mrs. Raines, who was sentenced yesterday to thirty days in the barracks or to leave the city for refusing to be vaccinated, has been suspended until the other cases have been disposed of. The affair has caused a tremendous sensation here and little else is talked of.

SERIOUSLY HURT.

A Student at the N. C. University Run Down by a Freight Train.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RALEIGH, N. C., November 17.—Benjamin Long, Jr., a student at the North Carolina University, was run down and seriously hurt by a freight train at University station at 9.30 o'clock yesterday morning. He was pinned under the freight, which was backing when it struck him, and it was with difficulty he was released. His thigh, arm and a collar bone were broken, and his recovery is doubtful. Mr. Long is a son of Mr. B. F. Long, of Statesville, one of the most prominent attorneys in North Carolina.

Mr. Long died to-night at Watts' hospital, in Durham, where he was carried soon after the accident.

BRITISH SUSTAIN A SEVERE LOSS.

Ninety Men Killed, Wounded or Captured in An Affair Near Estcourt.

ARMORED TRAIN DESTROYED.

Report of Death of Boer General Joubert is Discredited—British Repulse Another Attack On Ladysmith. Boer Losses Very Heavy.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, November 17, 5. A. M.—Misfortune steadfastly pursue British employment of armored trains, the fascination for which has given the Boers their first and latest victories. The British seemed to have walked into a deliberate trap with the result that, according to the best accounts, ninety men are either killed, wounded or missing. Of these the fusileers claim fifty and the Durban infantry forty. It is believed that few escaped and that the others are prisoners in the hands of the Boers. Many of the wounded were brought back on the locomotive and tender of the armored train. Captain Haldane, of the Gordon Highlanders, was attached to the Fusiliers and other officers were with them. The list of casualties is awaited with great anxiety. In time of trouble Lieutenant Winston Churchill has proved himself more a soldier than a correspondent, and his gallantry is highly praised on all sides.

The rumor of the death of General Joubert is discredited.

It is understood that the war office has news that he is still directing affairs. It is also rumored from Pietermaritzburg that the Boer losses at Ladysmith on Thursday were heavy and included General Lucas Meyer, who was either killed or wounded. The report as to General Joubert probably arose from the fact that his wife has left the Boer camp at Ladysmith for the Free State.

The Cape Town correspondent of the Standard says he has heard from an old resident who has just left the Orange Free State, that the war is very unpopular there, that apart from the government officials the attitude of the people who consider themselves bound to England, is very half hearted, that disaffection and disobedience are spreading.

Gen. Joubert Killed in Action.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—A dispatch received here to day from Pietermartizburg, dated November 11, says it is rumored there that General Piet Joubert, commander-in chief of the Boer forces, has been killed in action.

DURBAN, Nov. 12.—The Times of Natal publishes a telegram from Lorenzo Marquez saying that General Joubert was killed in action on Thursday November 9th.

LONDON, November 16.—A special dispatch from Durban, dated Monday, November 13th, says that a member of the Natal field force, who succeeded in traversing the Boer lines with Ladysmith dispatches, has arrived at Pietermaritzburg and reports that a determined attack was made by the Boers on the British garrison, which was quite prepared and met the advance with such a heavy and well directed fire that the Boers were driven off, leaving many dead. It is also said that British and Boer patrols came in touch and exchanged shots near Frere, south of Colenso.

Armored Train Smashed by Boers.

ESTCOURT, NATAL, November 15.—An armored train, having on board a half company of the Durban volunteers and a half company of the Dublin Fusileers steamed to Chievely early this morning. On its return it was shelled by the artillery of the Boers, placed in four positions. Two trucks in front of the engine left the rails, toppling over. While the train was thus helpless, the Durbans and Dublins faced the Boers in skirmishing order and the Boers poured shot and shell into the crippled train. The derailed wagons were with great difficulty removed and the line was cleared, when the engine and tender steamed back. During this juncture Lieutenant Winston Churchill, of the Fourth hussars, and son of the late Lord Randolph Churchill, displayed much courage, as also did the driver and fireman. It is feared the Dublins and Durbans fared badly. A Red Cross party has gone out.

DURBAN, Nov. 16—The Natal Advertiser has a dispatch from Estcour which says:

"When part of the armored train was overturned by the Boers tearing up the rails, the British alighted, exchanging volleys with the Boers. The engine-driver, when the rails were replaced, seeing the position was hopeless, steamed back to Estcourt with a few of the Dublins and fifteen of the Durbans, including Captain Wylie, who was wounded on the tender.

The fate of the remainder of the Durbans and Dublins and Lieutenant Churchill is unknown.

Twesty-three Missing.

ESTCOURT, Nov. 16.—Seven of the Durbans have just come in, making twenty-three missing. Only fifteen of the Dublins have returned.

The naval seven pounder which was in front of the truck had fired three shots, when it was shattered by the Boer artillery.

DURBAN, NATAL, Nov. 16,—The Natal Mercury, describing the engagement says:

"The enemy apparently opened fire with a Maxim and, two 9-pounders, getting the range accurately. The fire was so severe that the telegraph wires and poles were destroyed. Their guns were posted on a kopje covered with brush wood, and their sharpshooters were hidden behind boulders. The Dublins and volunteers, fighting an unequal battle, thrice drove the enemy back, but the fierceness of the rifle and big gun fire was too much for the brave little party, which was weakened at the outset by the overturning of the trucks hurting several.

"Lieutenant Churchill's bravery and coolness were magnificent. Encouraged by him, the men worked like heroes in clearing the line to enable the engine tender to pass.

"Later details show that a heavy rain and mist compelled a cessation of firing. Lieutenant Churchill bravely carried the wounded to the tender under fire. While the Boers were destroying the train, their scouts pushed in and exchanged shots with the British pickets a few miles from Estcourt. It appears that the Boers were in ambush. As soon as the train had passed up they emerged from cover and dislodged the sleeper bolts."

LONDON, Nov. 16.—A special from Estcourt estimates the wounded and missing of the armored train contingent at from 100 to 150. The missing include Captain Haldane. It is hoped that some escaped over the veldt and will return to Estcourt in a few days.

A missionary—a native, but a reliable man—who arrived at Estcourt yesterday from Ladysmith, reports that a big fight took place there on Friday, November 10th. He says that the volunteers went out in the early morning and drew the enemy from their positions, when the regular troops, under Sir George White, outmanoeuvred them by outflanking the Boers, administering a crushing defeat and inflicting great loss.

Bombardment of Ladysmith.

LOURENZO MARQUES, November 16.—A local newspaper reports that Ladysmith was subjected to a very heavy bombardment all day Tuesday, and that at midnight all the cannon on the hills surrounding the town opened fire simultaneously, pouring shells from all points of the compass. Several buildings took fire, the newspaper asserts, and could be seen from Bulawayo hill.

THE METEORIC DISPLAY.

Caused Panic in Many Places in Russia. Brilliant at Berlin — A Building Wrecked in Illinois.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—In Russia, the Leonid display caused a panic in many places. It was believed that the end of the world had come. Churches were open all night long, and hundreds of thousands spent three nights in the open air, fearing earthquakes and a general cataclysm. There are rumors that in some villages Russian parents murdered their children to relieve them from an expected worse fate.

There was rather a brilliant meteoric display between 2 and 5 o'clock Thursday morning at Berlin.

A Building Wrecked.

CRESCENT, ILL., November 16.—By the falling of an aerolite, seven miles south of Crescent City, the residence of John Meyers was partially wrecked, and the neighborhood was panic stricken. The meteor came from a point in the sky a little east of south and struck the north end of the house, tearing away a part of the upper story. The aerolite buried itself in the ground about five feet from the foundation of the house.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NORFOLK, VA., November 16.—Clarence L. Snyder, a youth of this city, was shot and instantly killed while hunting to-day, in company with another boy, on the farm of Justice of the Peace Oscar Flemming, near Kempsville, about ten miles distance from the city. Magistrate Flemming and two other persons were arrested this afternoon to be held until the coroner's jury renders a verdict. Formal accusation may be made against the justice of the peace, as Snyder's companion says a white man appeared at Flemming's gate and shot at them.

He has acquaintances here, but they refuse to give out any information concerning him. It is reported Dexter says he left home while temporarily mentally unbalanced on account of financial troubles. He claims that insanity is hereditary in his family, his mother having been similarly affected. He claims that nothing of a criminal character attaches to any of his actions.

YOUNG PURSUING THE FILIPINOS.

Aguinaldo and His Followers Making Desperate Efforts to Escape.

MANY IMPORTANT SEIZURES.

Commissary and Medical Supplies, Official Records and Wardrobe of Aguinaldo's Wife Captured—An Epdemic of Dengue in Manila.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MANILA, November 16.—Reports have been received here from General Young, dated Humingam, yesterday. Humingam is about thirty miles east of San Fabian. General Young is supposed to have advanced considerably further toward San Fabian.

A correspondent of the Associated Press telegraphs an account of the rapid pace with which General Young covered the road with his cavalry. The Macabebe scouts completely surprised and demoralized the insurgents around the low country. A messenger and reinforcements, who were captured, say no town from San Jose to San Nicolas expected the arrival of the Americans until a day or two after they actually arrived.

Aguinaldo and his government are said to be making desperate efforts to escape to Bayombong. All the information here is that he is still in the low country.

Lieutenant Johnston, with Troop M, Third cavalry, captured yesterday, at San Nicolas, twelve barrels containing the wardrobe of Aguinaldo's wife, some personal effects, the records of the Secretary of War and much commissary and medical supplies. Senora Aguinaldo probably escaped over the divide, but the Filipino Secretary of War is thought to be inside the lines.

Thomas W. Hayes, a civilian, and Calvin S. Davis of the Sixteenth infantry, who were held prisoners by the insurgents, have been rescued.

Colonel Wessels captured at Tayug several thousand pounds of rice, 7,500 pounds of salt, 5,500 pounds of flour marked "Dayton, Ohio," 2,500 pounds of sugar, 1,300 new uniforms and hundreds of thousands of Mauser shells.

The names of Lieutenant Gilmore and seven of his men were found written on the walls of the convent of San Quintin.

The garrisons of all the towns surprised resisted feebly. General Wheaton has not yet appeared.

The remains of Major John A. Logan, killed in action at San Jacinto Saturday, were buried in Paco cemetery this morning.

Epidemic of Dengue.

WASHINGTON, November 16.—Chief Surgeon Woodhull, at Manila, under date of October 12th, sends Surgeon General Sternberg the following:

"A sharp and quiet general epidemic of dengue has prevailed in Luzon for some months past and it appears to be spreading to the south. There have been few really severe cases, but a large number that interdicted duty for some days."

The Pursuit of Aguinaldo.

WASHINGTON, November 16.—General Otis to-day cabled the War Department as follows regarding the situation of the American advance in pursuit of Aguinaldo:

"Manila, November 16.—During thirty-six hours four and one inches rain; still raining north. Lawton's telegraph line is not beyond San Jose; the last dispatch on the evening of the 14th reported the capture of many supplies north and east of San Nicholas and our troops moving from Humingan and Tayug west on Urdaneta where insurgents are reported. Lawton has abundant supplies, subsistence, forage and transportation (at) San Isadro and Cubanatuan, but is unable to move it. MacArthur has the railroad between Bamban and Tarlac in operation; five miles; road south of Bamban is being reconstructed; removed rails from North of Tarlac. MacArthur sends four battalions and one troop cavalry forward to Gerona to day; advance from Aliaga to Victoria five miles north of East Tarlac."

THREATS OF LYNCHING.

Negro Murderer Taken to Goldsboro From Johnston County Jail.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RALEIGH, November 16.—Thomas Smith, the negro who was tried and convicted of murdering Charles Cawthorne, near Selma, last Christmas, was taken to Goldsboro this evening by Sheriff Ellington, of Johnston county, for safe keeping. The Supreme Court gave Smith a new trial and his case has been moved to Wayne county for trial. Threats of lynching were made against him in Johnston county.

The United States transport Thomas, with the Forty-seventh infantry on board for Manila, was roundly cheered by the British channel squadron, whose bands played British and American airs as the transport passed Gibraltar. The soldiers returned the compliment.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Nov. 15.—A special to the Journal from Webster City, Iowa, states that a large meteor fell in the woods just east of that place last night. It is said to have made a hole about 5 feet square and to have been seething and steaming so that its full size could not be determined. Persons in the vicinity said it made a loud roaring noise when descending.
